DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Japanese document (JP55036554).

Japanese document '554 discloses a pre-cast socket comprising a strip foundation having a longitudinal socket groove (see Fig. 3), round inner holes and rectangular outer holes (19,20).

3. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Japanese document (JP01163306).

Japanese document discloses a holding/levelling device comprising main truss girder (32, see Fig. 6) located on top of a pair of adjustable supports (22) including hydraulic lifting presses (see Fig. 7) placed within a steel housing, an enlarged basis (see Fig. 7) supporting the housing, and horizontal bolt (23) extending below the truss-girder and in a same general direction as the truss-girder and hanged upon two vertical rods (33) extending vertically through respective holes of the main truss-girder and spaced symmetrically about the midspan of the main girder.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japanese document '557 in view of Japanese document (JP06057761).

Japanese document '557 discloses a method of constructing a foundation for receiving and supporting walls (see Figs. 2,6,9) around the perimeter of a building layout (see Fig. 1). Japanese document '557 discloses the invention substantially as claimed.

However, it lacks a plurality of longitudinal sockets supported above a trench via a holding and leveling device. Japanese document '761 teaches longitudinal sockets (see Figs. 1-6) and holding and leveling device (see Figs. 1-6). It would have been considered obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Japanese document '557 to substitute the foundation sockets as taught by Japanese document '761 for the foundation sockets disclosed by Japanese document '557 since such a modification is a simple substitution of one known element for another that yields predictable results.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
